Bryan Edward Hiyas,

Case No. 2:24-cv-00388-APG-BNW

Plaintiff,

REPORT AND RECOMMENDATION

V.

TransUnion, et al.,

Defendants.

10 On March 13, 2024, Plaintiff filed an amended complaint against several defendants. ECF
11 No. 5. On March 22, 2024, the Court dismissed Plaintiff's claims with leave to amend by April 12 26, 2024. ECF No. 7. That order warned Plaintiff that this case would be dismissed if he failed to 13 file an amended complaint by that deadline. Id. Plaintiff neither filed an amended complaint by 14 that deadline nor moved for an extension of time to do so. Instead, Plaintiff objected to the 15 Court's recommendation to dismiss the case. ECF No. 8. The Court then gave Plaintiff one more 16 chance to file an amended complaint by May 24, 2024. ECF No. 10. He did not do so. As a result, 17 this Court recommends that this case be dismissed without prejudice and closed.

18        The law permits a district court to dismiss an action based on a party's failure to prosecute
19        his case or comply with a court order. See Hells Canyon Preservation Council v. U.S. Forest 20        Serv., 403 F.3d 683, 689 (9th Cir. 2005) (recognizing that courts may dismiss an action pursuant 21        to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 41(b) sua sponte for a plaintiff's failure to prosecute or comply 22        with the rules of civil procedure or the court's orders); see also Ferdik v. Bonzelet, 963 F.2d 1258, 23        1260–61 (9th Cir. 1992) (dismissal for failure to comply with an order requiring amendment of 24        complaint). In determining whether to dismiss an action, the court must consider: (1) the public's 25        interest in expeditious resolution of litigation; (2) the court's need to manage its docket; (3) the 26        risk of prejudice to the defendants; (4) the public policy favoring disposition of cases on their 27        merits; and (5) the availability of less drastic alternatives. In re Phenylpropanolamine Prod. Liab.

1        Litig., 460 F.3d 1217, 1226 (9th Cir. 2006) (quoting Malone v. U.S. Postal Serv., 833 F.2d 128,
 2        130 (9th Cir. 1987)).

3                The first two factors, the public’s interest in expeditiously resolving this litigation and the 4        court’s interest in managing its docket, weigh in favor of dismissal of Plaintiff’s claims. The 5        third factor, risk of prejudice to defendants, also weighs in favor of dismissal because a 6        presumption of injury arises from the occurrence of unreasonable delay in filing a pleading
 7        ordered by the court or prosecuting an action. See Anderson v. Air West, 542 F.2d 522, 524 (9th
 8        Cir. 1976). The fourth factor—the public policy favoring disposition of cases on their merits—9        weighs against dismissal.

10               The fifth factor requires the court to consider whether less drastic alternatives can be used
 11        to correct the party’s failure that brought about the court’s need to consider dismissal. Courts 12        “need not exhaust every sanction short of dismissal before finally dismissing a case, but must 13        explore possible and meaningful alternatives.” Henderson v. Duncan, 779 F.2d 1421, 1424 (9th 14        Cir. 1986). Because this action cannot proceed without an operative complaint, the only 15        alternative is to enter a third order setting another deadline. The circumstances here do not 16        indicate that Plaintiff needs additional time nor is there evidence that he did not receive the 17        court’s order. Setting another deadline is not a meaningful alternative given these circumstances.
 18        So, the fifth factor favors dismissal.

19               In balance, the factors above favor a recommendation of dismissal. See Hernandez v. City
 20        of El Monte, 138 F.3d 393 (9th Cir. 1998) (holdings dismissal is proper where least four factors 21        support dismissal or where at least three factors “strongly” support dismissal).

22               IT IS THEREFORE RECOMMENDED that THIS ACTION IS DISMISSED for 23        failure to file an amended complaint by the court-ordered deadline, leaving no claims pending.

24
 25               NOTICE

26               This report and recommendation is submitted to the United States district judge assigned 27        to this case under 28 U.S.C. § 636(b)(1). A party who objects to this report and recommendation 28        may file a written objection supported by points and authorities within fourteen days of being

1 served with this report and recommendation. Local Rule IB 3-2(a). Failure to file a timely
2 objection may waive the right to appeal the district court's order. Martinez v. Ylst, 951 F.2d 1153, 3 1157 (9th Cir. 1991).
